and natural texture – Trendwood
Flooring transforms every surface into a statement of timeless design.

TRENDWOOD FLOORING

AMS Surfaces presents the Trendwood Engineered Flooring Collection — a refined balance of craftsmanship, innovation, and natural beauty. Designed for versatility across commercial, retail, and residential spaces, Trendwood offers the timeless appeal of real timber with the performance of modern engineering.

Meticulously crafted for stability and longevity, Trendwood endures shifts in temperature and humidity without compromise. The collection is available in elegant herringbone, chevron, and traditional plank formats, complemented by a range of widths, lengths, thicknesses, and finishes to suit every design vision and application.

More than a surface, Trendwood is a foundation for enduring design — hardwearing, repairable, and timelessly sophisticated.

THE SIGNATURE RANGE

With the increasing demand for wider and longer floorboards, structural stability has become a critical factor in engineered timber design. The multi-ply core construction provides superior dimensional stability, reducing the risk of cupping, twisting, and bowing under varying environmental conditions. This engineered structure ensures long-term performance and durability, maintaining the integrity of the flooring even when exposed to fluctuations in temperature and humidity.
